

AGENCY CAPACITY BUILDER

A SIX-MONTH COHORT
FOR AGENCY
NETWORKS

The answers are already in the room.

Agencies across a network often face the same challenge, each working on it alone. The Agency Capacity Builder brings them together to solve it with peers.

A needs assessment sets the focus, so it comes from what agencies say they need most.

WHAT IT CAN LOOK LIKE

BEGIN	A needs assessment, an introduction roundtable, and a discovery call with each agency
MEET	Monthly sessions at rotating agency sites, working a real challenge in pairs, small groups and the full cohort
FOLLOW THROUGH	Coaching calls with each agency, and every session opens with what you tried since the last one

WHAT AGENCIES GAIN

Relationships across the network

Agencies that knew each other start working alongside each other.

Progress on a shared challenge

Such as keeping staff or measuring impact.

Two leaders, two levels

An executive brings where to go; a mid-level leader brings what it takes.

Inside each other's work

Every session is hosted at an agency site.

HOW IT HAS BEEN RECEIVED

The first two cohorts took on workforce retention and measuring impact. Within three sessions they produced the network's first cross-agency referral, and a shared release of information moved from an idea to something several agencies are weighing seriously. The funding board said the program has delivered more than it expected.
